

Thomas is a professional bassist, multi-instrumentalist, and instructor in the Hickory area. Having participated in many local musical programs in his upbringing, he would start his professional journey at the age of 16.

Often described as a musical chameleon, Thomas is equally at home on large stages or intimate venues, Nashville recording studios, or remote project sessions.